

Summary Biographical Details: Barbara Pocock

Professor Barbara Pocock is Director of the Centre for Work + Life, at the University of South Australia.

Barbara has been researching work, employment and industrial relations now for twenty-five years. She has worked in many jobs – advising politicians, on farms, in unions, for governments and as a mother.

Her main areas of study have been work, employment relations, unions, inequality and vocational education.

She was initially trained as an economist.

Her latest book, published in October 2006, is The Labour Market Ate my Babies: Work, Children and a Sustainable Future.

Her previous books include:

- The Work/Life Collision (2003)
- Strife; Sex and Politics in Labour Unions (1997) and
- Demanding Skill: Women and Technical Education in Australia (1988).